About Legacy Partners

a message from

C. PRESTON BUTCHER, CEO

I am excited about our company. Looking at our success over the past 30 years, I can state unequivocally that we work hard to expand our business and make significant progress toward our four stated goals:

To be the best real estate services firm in our markets
To maximize the return on investments from our properties

To build strong relationships internally and externally
To lead the industry in profitability and revenue growth

I feel privileged to head an organization of dedicated people who show by their work each day that they share common values of high moral and ethical behavior and respect for our corporate goals. My role is to safeguard our future and our legacy. I will do my best to focus on financial performance, capital sources, and strategic opportunities, and to serve as Legacy Partners' "Ambassador" to people inside and outside the company.

In my job, I am guided by our Mission Statement, which serves as a constant reminder of our responsibilities to our partners, clients, tenants, residents and owners. Our Mission Statement reminds us of our responsibilities as a company that is truly the best in the business.

I invite you to contact Legacy Partners to learn how our experience and entrepreneurial spirit can benefit you in all aspects of your real estate investment. We want to be your real estate partner.
